Based on the results of the laboratory analyses conducted by the FDA, it was found that the affected batch did not conform to the set specification of assay test. The assay of a drug product determines the (1) presence of a substance and the amount of that substance, or (2) the pharmaceutical potency of a drug. Therefore, the stated batch present quality and efficacy concerns.

Mupirocin is a topical antibacterial agent, active against those organisms responsible for the majority of skin infections. It is used for skin infections, e.g., impetigo, folliculitis, furunculosis in adults, adolescents, children and infants aged 4 weeks and older. Mupirocin 20 mg/g (2%) Ointment (Mirocid) is packed in an aluminum tube x 5 g (Box of 1's).

Therefore, distributors, hospitals, retailers, pharmacies, or clinics that have the affected batch of the product are instructed to discontinue further distribution, sale, and use. Likewise, all consumers are advised not to use or purchase the affected product batch and may contact JF Draf Pharmaceuticals Corp. by sending an e-mail to sales@jfdrafpharma.com and/or sales.jfdraf@gmail.com for any question or additional information regarding the recall.

All Local Government Units (LGU) and Law Enforcement Agencies (LEAs) are requested to ensure that the affected product batch are not sold or made available in their localities or areas of jurisdiction.
